

ABOUT ADN DIGNIDAD

ADN Dignidad (DNA Dignity in English) provides humanitarian assistance to migrant population coming from Venezuela, Colombian returnees and host communities, aiming at providing access to basic goods and services, contributing to alleviate their needs, and promoting their integration into the Colombian society.

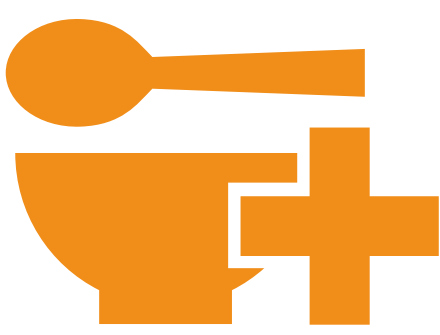

Our consortium is integrated by three international humanitarian organizations:

- Action Against Hunger
- Danish Refugee Council
- Norwegian Refugee Council

AREAS OF INTERVENTION

Provide Multi-Purpose Cash Assistance (MPCA) to highly vulnerable populations and contribute to their access to basic goods and services.

Promote a balanced nutrition, contagion prevention methods against COVID-19, adequate breastfeeding, as well as affordable and diverse diets to increase the impact of the MPCA.

Inform about the routes to access social protection and legal services available locally, to reduce and prevent risks, as well as strengthen the capacity of self-protection among beneficiaries across all program implementation phases.

PARTICIPATION

- We undertake participatory and accountability processes across all program phases, to ensure that the opinions and interests of the beneficiaries are considered and integrated to promote higher and better program results.
- We have available various communication channels to ensure that our beneficiaries receive orientations or answers to their claims, complaints, and congratulations.
